Ants are a special kind of animals in the world. Where do they live? How do they work? How many kinds of ants are there in the world? Let's have a close look at them.

Some ants make their homes under a stone. If the weather is warm, you may see many ants under the stone. If the weather is cold, many ants will be in their houses under the ground.

Most of the ants are workers. They are very busy. They look for food and take care of the young ants. Each family of ants has a queen ant. The queen ant doesn't work. She is the most important because she lays eggs(产卵). These eggs will become new ants.

There are about sixteen thousand kinds of ants in the world. One kind of ant in America is very strong. These ants come and go in groups. They eat all the animals on their way. They can kill and eat big animals like elephants. When the ants pass through, there will be no other insects(昆虫) or snakes on the way.

When Mother and Totto-chan went in, the man in the office got up from his chair.

With a quick bow(鞠躬), Totto-chan asked him, "What are you?" He laughed and answered, "I'm the headmaster of this school."

Totto-chan was glad. "Oh, that's great," she said, "because I want to ask you for help. I'd like to come to your school."

The headmaster turned to Mother. "You may go home now. I want to talk to Totto-chan." Totto-chan had a moment's worry, but soon felt she could get along all right with this man. "Well, then, I'll leave her with you," Mother said bravely, and she went out.

When they were both sitting down close together, he said, "Now then, tell me all about yourself and anything you want to talk about."

"Anything I like?" Totto-chan was happy, so she began talking about all she wanted. She went on and on. The headmaster would laugh, nod, and say, "And then?" And Totto-chan kept on talking. But finally she found that she finished saying all. She sat with her mouth closed trying hard to think of something.

But just then the headmaster got up, placed his large, warm hand on her head, and said, "Well, now you're a student of this school."

At that moment Totto-chan felt she met someone she really liked for the very first time in her life. And the headmaster seemed just as interested in what she said as she was.

It was time for lunch. The headmaster listened to Totto-chan for four whole hours! Never before did any grown-up listen to her for as long as that. The headmaster, however, made her feel safe and warm and happy. She wanted to stay with him forever.

That's how Totto-chan felt about Headmaster Sosaku Kobayashi that first day. And, luckily, the headmaster felt the same about her.

42. Why did Totto-chan meet the man?

- A. She thought she Liked him.
- B. Sloe was interested in his job.
